"It's Just Been So Busy Lately"
When people greet you and ask how you are doing, do you automatically respond with a resounding, "Ugh, I've been so BUSY lately!" Or, if your friends say how busy they have been, do you find yourself countering with the statement, "Tell me about it! You should hear how busy my week has been...". Why do we try to "out-busy" our friends and colleagues as if that's somehow a badge of honor? This engaging presentation will focus on user-friendly energy practices that can help tame our inner "busy beast".

2:45 p.m. Break

3:00 p.m. CEO Welcome – Mark Cummins

3:15 p.m. Joint session with CEO's and Women's Leadership Network

Facilitating Change: A Leader's Imperative
There is little doubt that many organizations operate in a complex and ever-changing landscape. This increased complexity requires leaders to be effective change agents...people who recognize restraints to organizational progress and make things happen with the help of others. In this session, participants will have an opportunity to learn about organizational change and further be able to recognize how change management can add value to a leader's role.
